ARBOR DAY AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

The Students Make a List of The Birds Found in The Daytona Environs.

INTERESTING EXERCISES HELD.

Friday being Arbor Day, in Florida, the different departments of the Daytona schools put in the last hour of the session in observance of the day. The Parliamentary Club of the High School, in connection with its regular program, had very interesting exercises in honor of the day. "Arbor Day" anthem, and "Florida, My Florida," were sung with a vim. One committee on Trees and another committee, on Birds, made their reports as follows:

Trees on the school grounds are as follows: Bay, 2; cedar, 4; hickory, 7; mulberry, 1; oak, 63; pine, 1; palmetto, 102. Total, 185.

The birds in Daytona are as follows: Humming bird, black bird, turtle dove, red bird, English sparrow, woodpecker, mocking bird, blue bird, sand piper, heron, fish hawk, wild ducks, snipe, whooping crane, robbins, quail wren, cat bird, bat, vesper sparrow, canary, thrush, butcher bird, eagle, chicken hawk, buzzard, whip-poor-will, baboon, jay, pheasant, chewink; chiradee, cedar bird, crow, heron ground dove, beach pee, bluejay, chippy, song sparrow, oriole, raven, bantit, seagull, owls, petel, tree creeper, king fisher, sparrow hawk, pelican, mangrove warbler, partridge, curlew, screech owl, dull bird, meadow lark, nut hatch, bull bat, flicker, kill deer, gold finch.

The list of birds may not be complete. The High School would thankfully receive any information that would help to complete the list of Daytona birds, and such as make migratory visits here.

It is a general feeling among the pupils of the public schools of Daytona that they would rather have, on the school grounds, the trees, the birds, the squirrels, and the sand, than to have in their stead a big sign, "Keep Off the Grass."

BOWERS OF BEAUTY.

The M. Ella DeVoe Co. held its spring millinery opening yesterday and this popular Beach street millinery emporium was a center of interest with festivity. There were bowers of pretty ones in all sorts of creations, creations of ribbons, feathers wings, laces, flowers and other material of every shade imaginable.

The display was varied and comprised everything to suit the fancy of all tastes and there were many acknowledgments of pleasure from the delighted visitors.

Announcement.

I hereby announce my candidacy for election to the office of City Tax Collector and respectfully ask the support of the voters at the election of Feb. 19.

Elks Hold Session and Receive Four New Members Into The Local Herd.

IN THEIR LUXURIOUS NEW HOME.

The Elks held their first meeting last night in their new quarters in the Conrad building. This suite of rooms makes an ideal home and the new lodge is now comfortable in luxurious quarters.

Four candidates were last night initiated into the mysteries of Elkdom and today wear marks of the hot iron brand. The new Elks are J. W. Shields, W. J. Morgan, G. H. Matthews and M. L. Stanley.

Col. C. M. Bingham and J. D. Maley presented the lodge last night with a pair of antlers said to be the finest ever seen in Daytona and probably the finest pair in the State. They are very much admired and the boys are proud of the gift.

The trustees who have the furnishing of the suite of rooms in charge are nearly through with their work and it is believed they have exercised wisdom and taste in the happy results achieved.

At their next meeting seven or eight new applicants for admission into the order are to be passed upon and two weeks hence a large class will be initiated and a banquet served.

NAVY OFFICER IS DISGRACED

(By United Press)

GIBRALTER, Feb. 6.—Finding Capt. Edward F. Qualtrough of the battleship Georgia, guilty on conduct unbecoming an officer, the court martial appointed to findings today. The penalty inflicted was six months' suspension from duty and the loss of ten numbers in rank. The finding was a great surprise to the officers and men of the squadron.

KEEP ON MURDERING.

(By United Press.)

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 6.—All that the police force can do is being done to unravel the mystery surrounding the murder of Miss Elizabeth Pulhart, the sixth in the list of women murdered and ravished here in two years.

Albert Wilki, generally remarked as the sweetheart of the girl, is being held by the police. He was in the sweatbox last night and today. The police also hold Bert Cooley, a moulder and keysmith, and a colored boy 18 years old.

Miss Pulhart was found late yesterday hanging head down, with a sack over her head, in a rotten spot a vacant house.

JOHN VAN TO THE RESCUE.

The subjoined daggerel is from the St. Augustine Record's unclaimed poet and is reproduced for what it is worth. The meter, as a glance will show, is greatly out of kelter; stumbling abruptly from I am this! to damn (one!) to painful feet with aching bunions. The Augustine poet before inflicting such hare and disjointed feet upon the people should have gone to a chiropodist. Such bursts of poetic genius and flashes of wit would be envied the dashing old lady in the Matanzas by her younger sister down on the Halifax were the latter not secure in her possession of John Van, poet laureate of the Halifax. But hear the bard of the Matanzas:

DAYTONA AT 12 NOON.

(With the most profuse apologies to every Daytona editor that we can think of at present.)

"What is this silence, strange and sweet,
That broods upon the quiet town?
No people walking up or down;
No cheerful tread or busy feet.
Daytona sleeps. Not even a bell
Tolls out an echo of its life,
No war cries—not a drum or fife
To wake the dead with solemn knell.
Some vigil all its mourning keeps—
Daytona sleeps.

Perchance some others may wake,
And yawn, and take a step or two
Or lonesome seem dog chatter, too.
Of dreams in bed and trails to take.
Like some unshaded stag swept
Into a gulf of silence great,
Daytona broods—her flowered gate
Sinks to her breast in promise kept
And darkness falls and twilight creeps.
Daytona sleeps.

Some editor, with rim in hand,
Nods o'er the specks of the day.
He, to, shall drowse the time away
By balmy breeze and lotus land.
Hush!—never word to wake the dead
Lest sleep be stirred from its repose.
The watchman yawns the pale hours
And longs to seek his native bed.
Hush!—Morpheus rocks those present
dodge—
Daytona sleeps."

Now listen to the post laureate of the Halifax:

"St. Aug." said "Aug.
You are a hog;
To claim it all
You've got the gall.
Daytona sleeps!
Shade is her pegs
While your lights burn
No; sheburn.
For your old town
To cry us down
And rub it in.
Is downright sin.
Why, you "old cuss,"

A Naturalist's Excursion in Florida.

[A friend of the Daily News hands in the following letter received by him from Mr. Yeldham while he was in the Everglades. Mr. Yeldham is a well known naturalist, who, while in the Everglades, will collect specimens of birds, animals, etc., for museums in the North.]

BULOWVILLE, E. FLORIDA
December 31, 1908.

My Dear F—

I have just returned from an excursion down the Halifax River about 10 miles from this place and 80 north of Augustine. I feel confident that as a result of it will be interesting to you, and I therefore set to Mr. A. J. Bulow, a rich planter, of whose hospitality self and party have been for a while, under the most hospitable and striking treatment that could possibly be expected, proposed three days' cruise that we should proceed down the river in search of new and valuable specimens, and accordingly six boats, six hands and "three white men," with some provisions, put off, with fair wind and sunsky, I for mine say because it seemed interrupted the rich blue of the heavens in the gradually lowered latitude. We meandered down a creek for about 15 miles, the water nearly hazel, perfectly, the shore lined with thousands of acres covered by tall grasses massive sunlight palm trees, studying the shore under moved to my immense eye. Some birds were shot and brought back in order to undergo the skinning operation. Before long we entered the Halifax River, an inland arm of the sea, measuring a breadth from a quarter to nearly a mile. The breeze was keen from the North east and our light bark leaped over the waves gaily onward toward the spot which we all anxiously anticipated to reach for night rather on. We did so, pressing several pushabouts on the way back, and all had reaching a schooner from New York, anchored at what is here called a live oak landing.

Kindly received by the master and his men, we spent the night very agreeably, and as comfortably as circumstances would permit. At sunrise the next morning, I and four negro servants proceeded in search of birds and adventures. The first is, I have anxious to kill some twenty-five brown pelicans to exhibit on to make a new showing of an adult male bird, and to preserve the crests of the others. I proceeded along a narrow, shallow bay, where the tide was fairly abundant. Would you believe it, if I was to say that the fish nearly swamped our boatmen? He fairly, in fullness it not, as it was the water was filled with them large as small. I shot some birds, and putting along the shore, when lo, I came in sight of several hundred pelicans perched on low branches of the mangrove trees, seated in most fashionable harmony, so to each other as the strength of the boughs would allow. I ordered to back water gently; the hands backed water. I waited to the shore under the cover of the trees on it, saw the pelicans fast asleep, examined their countenances and appeared well and leisurely, and after all needful and most my score, and developed two of the finest specimens I ever saw. I really believe I would have shot a hundred of those reverend sirs, had not a mistake taken place in the reloading of my gun. A mistake, however, did take place, and to my utmost disappointment, I saw such pelican, young and old, leave his perch and take to wing, soaring off well pleased, I dare say, at making so good an escape from so dangerous a foe.

The birds were all gone, and soaring high in the pure atmosphere. But the fish were as abundant as ever. I opened fire once to by Queen overboard, and in a few minutes we caught as many as we wanted, the fish, boo-bass and red heads. The Queens were as busy as ourselves, and devoured them at great rate.

DEVASTATION AND DEATH IN ITS WAKE.

Storm Sweeping From West Toward East With Loss of Life And Property.

DISTURBANCE REACHES ATLANTIC

(By United Press.)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 6—Between twenty five and thirty dead, a dozen small towns in partial ruins and a property loss of over $2,000,000 is the news coming in today from the wake of the cyclone sweeping the Southern states yesterday.

Most of the stricken towns are out of the way of direct communication and authentic information is very meager. The reports so far received are as follows:

Rolling Fork—6 negroes killed.
Bootie, Miss.—6 negroes killed.
Friars Point, Miss.—Heavy loss.
Prairie, Ark.—Mrs. White and sixteen school houses destroyed.
Stuttgart, Ark.—Mr. Caudell and child of William Cleary killed.
Sulphur Springs, Ia.—Two killed.
Muskogee, Okla.—Property loss, $5,000.
Cahirna, Ala.—Eight killed.
Montgomery, Ala.—3 negroes killed by lightning.

The End Is Near.

The sermon last night at the tent was on "Christ's Second Coming," based upon the 24th chapter of Matthew. Elder Pamele took the position that we are in the chapter commanded to know when Christ's coming is near, and that ample signs of that event are given in this chapter.

"In answer as to the question as to the sign of his coming," said the elder, "the Saviour gave a list of signs which would be witnessed all along the stream of time from Christ's first advent to his second appearing. Prominent among these signs are the darkening of the sun and moon, and the falling of the stars.

"On the 19th day of Nov., 1780 occurred the darkening of the sun, and the moon was darkened the night following that day. Where are the Lucases of that remarkable phenomena is not known. It could not have been an eclipse, for the moon had failed the day before. Those living at that time regarded it as a sign of coming doom.

"The great shower of stars which occurred Nov. 13, 1833, is another phenomenon, which comme yet unexplained. Do you realize it as the fulfillment of the prophesy of this chapter.

"On Jan. 1, we read that the sun, moon and stars are made to signify as well as by seasons, days and years. Why should we not believe these strange phenomena to be omens of that coming day? But where will that place us? In the very last days, when the Son of Man is seen at the door."

The subject for tonight will be "Christ's Immutable Body." Prominence might the prophesy of the seventh chapter of Daniel will be expounded.

PROGRAMME FOR THE BIG RACES.

Formal Announcement of Daytona's Big Racing Carnival Been Made In The East.

IS GIVEN OUT FROM NEW YORK.

(Special to the Daily News.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Formal announcement was made last night of the full program of the events for the Florida beach races at Daytona March 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Among the added events is a 200-mile race in which the participants are to be limited into five classes, according to selling prices; a 200-mile race in which the entrants are to be classed according to piston end displacement, and an international free-for-all race at one, five and ten miles.

Other events are: Fifty miles, open to are having competed in the Vanderbilt up races; five miles, Southern price and consequent speed; speed trials prize; Thomas Dewar $2000 trophy for fastest two mile; 100-mile Minneapolis $2000 trophy race; two-mile-a-minute championship, and an invitation match race between George Robertson, Lewis Strang, Herbert Lytle and Ralph De Palma for a $1000 purse.

In addition, there are to be six events for motor cycles, and a number of sensations speed trials. Altogether, $15,000 in prizes have been put up.

ALL WHO SEE ARE CHARMED

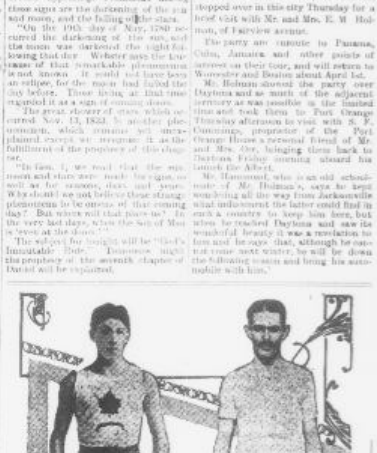
R. H. Hammond, of the Hammond Organ Reed Company, of Worcester, Mass., accompanied by his friends, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Orr, of Boston, stopped over in this city Thursday for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Holman, of Harvien avenue.

The party are enroute to Panama, Cuba, Jamaica and other points of interest on their tour, and will return to Worcester and Boston about April 1st.

Mr. Holman showed the party over Daytona and as much of the adjacent territory as was possible in the limited time and took them to Port Orange Thursday afternoon to visit with S. F. Cummings, proprietor of the Port Orange Hotel a personal friend of Mr. and Mrs. Orr, bringing them back to Daytona Friday morning aboard his launch the Alberta.

Mr. Hammond, who is an old schoolmate of Mr. Holman's, says he kept wondering all the way from Jacksonville what inducement the latter could find in such a country to keep him here, but the very last day, when the sun of Monday was seen at the dock.

The subject for tonight will be "Christ's Immutable Body." Prominence might the prophesy of the seventh chapter of Daniel will be expounded.



THE WORLD'S TWO GREATEST LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS.

Interest centered in Alfred Shrubb, the English distance runner, from the time that John Hayes won the Marathon race in England. While Shrubb lost no claims to skill at the Marathon distance, he held all distance records up to fifteen miles, and it was certain that he would get into the Marathon contest before supremacy at that distance was finally decided. In the training for the race with Champion Longboat, Shrubb met with an injury that caused the race to be postponed, but he made such phenomenal trial sprints that his friends eagerly backed him against the Indian.

A Naturalist's Excursion in Florida.

[A friend of the Daily News hands in the entertaining letter annexed, which is from Mr. Audubon to the Editor of The American Monthly Journal of Geology, etc., pubished at Philadelphia seventy-four years ago. Written by so distinguished a person when conditions were so different from the present, it can but prove of absorbing interest.]

BULOWVILLE, E. FLORIDA
December 31, 1835.

My Dear F:—

I have just returned from an expedition down the Halifax River, about 40 miles from this place and 80 south of Augustine. I feel confident that an account of it will be interesting to you, and I therefore set to: Mr. J. J. Bulow, a rich planter, at whose house myself and party have been for a whole week, under the most hospitable and welcome treatment that could possibly be expected, proposed, three days since, that we should proceed down the river in search of new and valuable birds, and accordingly the boat, six hands and "three white men," with some provisions, put off, with fair wind and pure sky, I say pure sky because not a cloud interrupted the rich blue of the heavens in this generally favored latitude. We meandered down a creek for about 11 miles, the water nearly torpid, yet clear, the shore lined with thousands of acres covered by fall grapes, marshes and high palm trees, rendering the shore quite novel to my anxious eye. Some birds were shot and brought back in order to undergo the skinning operation. Before long we entered the Halifax River, an inland arm of the sea, measuring in breadth from a quarter to nearly a mile. The breeze was keen from the Northeast and our light bark leaped over the waves gaily onward toward the spot which we all anxiously anticipated to reach ere night came on. We did so, passing several plantations on the west bank, and at last reaching a schooner from New York, anchored at what is here called a live oak landing.

Kindly received by the master and his men, we spent the night very agreeably, and as comfortably as circumstances would permit. At sunrise the next morning, I and four negro servants proceeded in search of birds and adventures. The fact is, I were anxious to kill some twenty-five brown pelicans, to enable me to make a new drawing of an adult male bird, and to preserve the dresses of the others. I proceeded along a narrow, shallow bay, where the fish were truly abundant. Would you believe it, if I was to say that the fish nearly obstructed our headway? Believe it, or believe it not, so it was: the water was filled with them large or small. I shot some rare birds, and putting along the shore, when lo, I came in sight of several hundred pelicans perched on the branches of the mangrove trees, seated in comfortable harmony, as near each other as the strength of the boughs would allow. I ordered to back water gently; the hands backed water. I waded to the shore under the cover of the rushes on it, saw the pelicans fast asleep, examined their countenances and departed well and leisurely, and after all levelled and fired my piece, and dropped two of the finest specimens I ever saw. I really believe I would have shot one hundred of these reverend sirs, had not a mistake taken place in the reloading of my gun. A mistake, however, did take place, and to my utmost disappointment, I saw each pelican, young and old, leave his perch and take to wing; soaring off well pleased, I dare say, at making so good an escape from so dangerous a foe.

The birds were all gone, and soaring high in the pure atmosphere; but the fish were as abundant as ever. I ordered the net to be thrown overboard, and in a few minutes we caught as many as we wanted, fine fish, too—bass and row mullet. The porpoises were as busy as ourselves, and devoured them at great rate.

DEVASTATION AND DEATH IN ITS WAKE.

Storm Sweeping From West Toward East With Loss of Life And Property.

DISTURBANCE REACHES ATLANTIC

[By United Press.]

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 6—Between twenty-five and thirty dead, a dozen small towns in partial ruins and a property loss of over $2,000,000 is the news coming in today from the wake of the cyclone sweeping the Southern states yesterday.

Most of the stricken towns are out of the way of direct communication and authentic information is very meager. The reports so far received are as follows:

Rolling Fork—6 negroes killed.
Booths, Miss.—6 negroes killed.
Friars Point, Miss.—Heavy loss.
Postelle, Ark.—White and colored school houses destroyed.
Stuttgart, Ark.—Mr. Canfield and child of William Chorey killed.
Sulphur Springs, La.—Two killed.
Muskogee, Okla.—Property loss, $5.000.
Culman, Ala.—Eight killed.
Montgomery, Ala.—3 negroes killed by lightning.

The End Is Near.

The sermon last night at the tent was on "Christ's Second Coming," based upon the 24th chapter of Matthew. Elder Parmele took the position that we are in this chapter commanded to know when Christ's coming is near, and that ample signs of that event are given in this chapter.

"In answer as to the question as to the sign of his coming," said the elder, "the Saviour gave a list of signs which would be witnessed all along the stream of time from Christ's first advent to his second appearing. Prominent among these signs are the darkening of the sun and moon, and the falling of the stars.

"On the 19th day of May, 1780 occurred the darkening of the sun, and the moon was darkened the night following that day. Webster says the true cause of that remarkable phenomenon is not known. It could not have been an eclipse, for the moon had fulled the day before. Those living at that time regarded it as a sign of coming doom.

"The great shower of stars, which occurred Nov. 13, 1833, is another phenomenon, which remains yet unexplained, except we recognize it as the fulfillment of the prophecy of this chapter.

"In Gen. 1, we read that the sun moon and stars were made for signs, as well as for seasons, days and years. Why should we not believe these strange phenomena to be omens of that coming day? But where will that place us? In the very last days, when the Son of Man is 'even at the doors.'"

The subject for tonight will be "God's Immutable Rule." Tomorrow night the prophecy of the seventh chapter of Daniel will be explained.

PROGRAMME FOR THE BIG RACES.

Formal Announcement of Daytona's Big Racing Carnival Been Made In The East.

IS GIVEN OUT FROM NEW YORK.

(Special to the Daily News.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Formal announcement was made last night of the full program of the events for the Florida beach races at Daytona March 23, 24, 25 and 26.

Among the added events is a 200-mile race in which the participants are to be divided into five classes, according to selling prices; a 200-mile race in which the entrants are to be classed according to piston and displacement, and an international free-for-all race at one, five and ten miles.

Other events are: Fifty miles, open to cars having competed in the Vanderbilt cup races; five miles, Southern price and horsepower speed; speed trials prize; Thomas Dewar $2000 trophy for fastest two mile; 100-mile Minneapolis $2000 trophy race; two-mile-a-minute championship, and an invitation match race between George Robertson, Lewis Strang, Herbert Lytle and Ralph De Palma for a $1000 purse.

In addition, there are to be six events for motor cycles, and a number of aeroplans speed trials. Altogether, $15,000 in prizes have been put up.

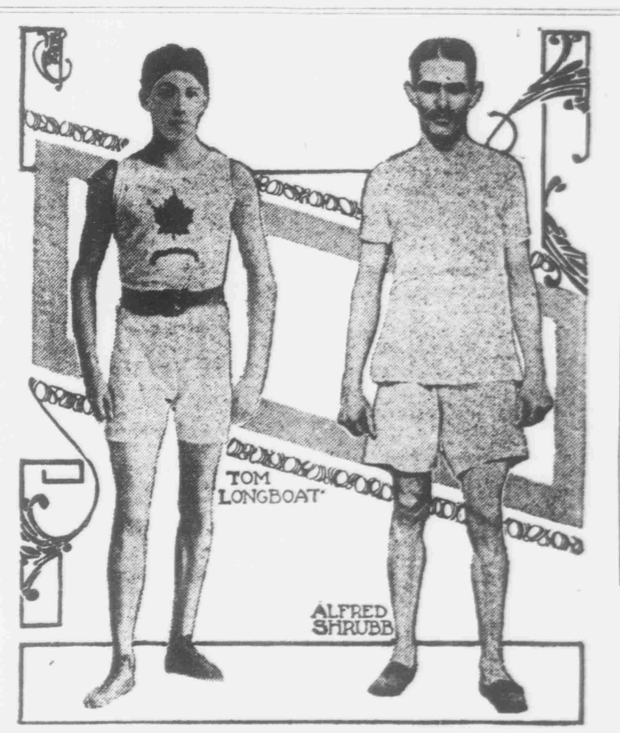
ALL WHO SEE ARE CHARMED

R. H. Hammond, of the Hammond Organ Reed Company, of Worcester, Mass., accompanied by his friends, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Orr, of Boston, stopped over in this city Thursday for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Holman, of Fairview avenue.

The party are enroute to Panama, Cuba, Jamaica and other points of interest on their tour, and will return to Worcester and Boston about April 1st.

Mr. Holman showed the party over Daytona and as much of the adjacent territory as was possible in the limited time and took them to Port Orange Thursday afternoon to visit with S. F. Cummings, proprietor of the Port Orange House a personal friend of Mr. and Mrs. Orr, bringing them back to Daytona Friday morning aboard his launch the Albert.

Mr. Hammond, who is an old schoolmate of Mr. Holman's, says he kept wondering all the way from Jacksonville what inducement the latter could find in such a country to keep him here, but when he reached Daytona and saw its wonderful beauty it was a revelation to him and he says that, although he cannot come next winter, he will be down the following season and bring his automobile with him.



THE WORLD'S TWO GREATEST LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS.

Interest centered in Alfred Shrubb, the English distance runner, from the time that John Hayes won the Marathon race in England. While Shrubb laid no claims to skill at the Marathon distance, he held all distance records up to fifteen miles, and it was certain that he would get into the Marathon contest before supremacy at that distance was finally decided. In his training for the race with Champion Longboat, Shrubb met with an injury that caused the race to be postponed, but he made such phenomenal trial sprints that his friends eagerly backed him against the Indian.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Feb. 6.—The public school observed Arbor Day with appropriate exercises and tree planting yesterday forenoon. Rev. Bacon addressed the school on the value of our forests and told of the steps being taken by the general Congress and executive department for the preservation and extension of our national parks. Two stately oaks were planted in the package and christened Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee. The photographer was on hand at the close of the exercises and nicely graphed the scene, which was a general entertainment of over 125 people.

H. G. Wilson & Co. yesterday sold three lots in Palmetto avenue, block 31, as follows: J. F. Johnson, of Enterprise, lot 11; W. H. Diamond, lot 12, and J. Rathbun, lot 13. The several parties will begin clearing their lots Monday and will put up small cottages for occupancy during the summer.

The following is a partial list of regular golf players at the Seabreeze links, the number of the new members daily: Paul Johnson, W. E. Gray, H. L. Waggoner, Carl Kreager, H. W. Fleet and two brothers, Florine and Reginald, E. B. Case, Geo. H. Farrell, B. F. Rigdon, Messrs. Campbell and Foster and Mrs. Grace Moore, Mrs. Farrell, Starling and Brigham.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Wadsworth are enjoying a visit from the latter's sister, Mrs. Cora McHardy, and two children, of Beach Comerlee. Mrs. McHardy arrived yesterday afternoon, and will spend the winter here. Mr. McHardy will join his wife here the latter part of the month. The journey to Seabreeze is a one-day trip.

A. I. Miller yesterday sold the Dunoka quarry, belonging to N. H. Gove, to C. A. Carter of the Carter Lumber & Manufacturing Co., of Sarda, Miss. Mr. Carter, only a few days ago, purchased three lots on the ocean front, on which he expects to erect a handsome residence.

"Goes" of Whisky.

Forty "goes" of whisky had been consumed by the deceased victualler, and still he was sober—at least as he told the city recorder. "Goes" is a common term in this connection, but it lacks the full appropriateness to the situation of its Scottish equivalent in the story of another big drink told by Jean Ramsay. It was at a party near Arbroath, held to celebrate the reconstruction of two fitters who had long been enemies. When the party at last broke up, at a morning hour, the pernicious lady of the house, who had not been able to sleep a wink for anxiety, called over the stairs to the servant:

"How many bottles of whisky have they used, Betty?"

"I dinna ken, mem," was the answer, "but they're drinkin six gang o' water."

To the poor girl, who had to "gang" to the well for the qualifying fluid, those were "goes" indeed.—London Chronicle.

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Feb. 6.—Messrs. Kreiter and Oltman, architects of Mrs. Gerlach, who have spent winters in Daytona Beach for two months past leave today for their home in New York.

The "Dixie" left last night for St. Augustine, being chartered for the trip by a private party.

Mr. Wilson and party left yesterday in his new houseboat for Titusville, and other points farther south. The houseboat was towed by the Lamb, Ed. Lytchfield in charge.

Mrs. W. B. Young, of Chicago, and Henry Jones, of Portland, Conn., are among the day's arrivals at the Daytona Beach Hotel.

C. F. Burgess and H. G. Wilson went to Del and yesterday on business. They made the trip in E. K. Gilmore's motor boat.

Mrs. A. S. Gilmore and friend, Mrs. Irene Young, of Cleveland, Ohio, were calling on friends and enjoying a drive on the beach yesterday afternoon.

The Tourists Club held its weekly meeting with a good attendance of ladies and some very fine specimens of shells.

The Ladies' Aid social, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Durdick, Thursday evening, called together some seventy-five friends in the cause. A program, consisting of music and recitations, was well carried out. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, and a very pleasant evening passed.

The Retort Squeezer.

Even in the days before there is reasonably a fifth of a dollar, it is said that at the time of the Johnstown flood a grocer to whom one of the villagers owed for an overdrive about a good sized bill for provisions while floating along on the top of the waters in a raft made of two winds y blinds and a cupboard door, caught sight of his delinquent debtor whirling around in one of the pools of the eddying current clinging to a large bogshead.

"Look here, you sir!" cried the grocer, inadvertently to the last. "Been looking for you for several days. When are you going to pay that bill?"

"Don't say that now, Sandy, old man," returned the unhappy debtor. "I'm having all I can do to keep my head above water these times."—Harper's Weekly.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world wonder. Go, stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Scarcely a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gauzy fond fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican perch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, quick and spon, their lampers and hokers bulging with refreshments to feed solid an liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your fold glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether this Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the fancy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these outstretched arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with cloth draperies, but as you move along, and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you are distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

Surpassing Beauty at Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commends more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own artistic and natural proclivities and build upon them, and as the architecture of no section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the south is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of pavings; the sodded city beautiful a great park.

And so for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite, where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? Till some unheeded place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's surroundings and however indifferent or ever callous one may be in many things, the sight of squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "quarter" there is a lunky ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit both spryright and grave on the most enduring native, saucy glances at you occasionally.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. In one yard roses in variegated hues predominate, another has a penchant for the poinsettia and the primrose are adams. another is hidden in a jungle of camellias.

The birds fit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled. It will charm and hold you. Come and see.

Coloring an Abyssinian Bride.

Western brides have an easier time than their Abyssinian sisters. On the occasion of her marriage an Abyssinian bride has to change her skin. From a negress she has to become the color of a cafe au lait. To accomplish this the expectant bride is shut up in a room for three months. She is covered with wooden stuff, with the exception of her head. Then they burn cubeb grass and fragrant branches. The fumes which they produce destroy the original skin, and in its place comes the new skin, soft and clear as a baby's. The elders of the family feed the young woman with nutritive forcemeat balls.

NEWS OF THE HOTELS

The Prince George.

Jacob Meiert and wife of Elizabeth, N. J. and J. H. Davis of Erie, Penn. were among the new arrivals at the Prince George on Friday.

The Ridgewood.

A. S. McKinney, Miss McKinney, Mrs. A. M. Kirkpatrick, El Paso, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Gundlinger child and maid of Philadelphia, arrived at the Ridgewood on Friday.

The Desplund.

Mrs. Aaron Blackford, Miss Gart Blackford of Findlay, Ohio; A. W. Friend, T. B. Walker and C. C. Hudson of Jacksonville; L. G. Lyman, city; R. W. Kennedy, Lexington, Ky. and E. B. Schorn and H. B. Rumphis of Jacksonville, arrived at the Desplund yesterday.

Schmidt's Hotel.

The following new guests arrived at Schmidt's Hotel on Friday: Adolph Hoke and William Hoke, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Jeanette F. Agnew, Mrs. Charles Nicholson and Mrs. F. E. Case, all of Canton, Ohio. Cornelius Christiancy, Port Orange; B. R. Dunn, Atlanta; N. Dreyfous, New York; J. R. Collins, New York, and H. L. Day, Jacksonville; Mr and Mrs. E. Kaiser, and Mr. and Mrs. Schrick of Newark, N. J., guests at Schmidt's Hotel, are on the Tomoka trip today on the steamer Cherokee."

Adolph Hoke of Grand Rapids, Mich., who, together with his son, William, is shopping at Schmidt's Hotel, is an old friend and school mate of the late D. A. Blodgett. Mr. Hoke is 82 years of age, but still about as active as a youngster.

His Wonderful Method.

"You haven't been married very long, have you?" said a guide at the state capitol to a young man who was signing "Mr. and Mrs." in the register for visitors at the desk at the entrance.

"How did you know?" demanded the young man.

"Oh, we get used to such people here and can tell them every time," was the response. "You haven't written that name with "Mrs." very long, have you? I believe I can tell how long you have been married from the signature." The guide continued.

"Well, we haven't been married very long, but I don't see how you can tell from the signature. How long has it been?"

"Well, let me see." The guide looked up the book and scanned the name closely.

"You have been married five days today," he said with an air of certainty.

"That's right. It's five days, too. I don't see how you can tell."

The young wife had been sitting on the marble bench during the colloquy, and not until the couple went out of the building did she tell "hubby" that the guide had revealed her in the same way and that she had told when they had been married.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Bavarian Distances.

In the Bavarian highlands signposts along the roads instead of stating the number of miles or kilometres to the various villages, give the amount of time which the average pedestrian will supposedly take to traverse the distance. This is merely an effort on the part of the very general custom of the peasants in the region, who invariably tell strangers on the roads not how far it is to a place, but how long it takes to get there. Not only that, but they make the system still more unsatisfactory to the stranger by using additional words that of themselves are indefinite enough.

For instance, one asks, "How far is it to Oberammergau?"

"A small half hour" will be the answer, or perhaps "A good half hour" or "A big half hour."

Which is puzzling until the stranger learns that a "small half hour" means twenty-five minutes, "a good half hour" thirty minutes, "a big half hour" forty-five minutes, "a small three quarters of an hour" forty minutes and so on.

An Economic Protest.

"Did I understand you to ask me if I wanted work?" asked Plodding Pete.

"That's what you understood, if you understood anything," answered the woman with a cold, steely eye and a square jaw.

"Maybe I got some wood that needs chopping, I suppose?"

"I have."

"Lady, I'm surprised at you. Don't you know that de trees gather moisture principally at night, when it is too dark for us to keep up a steady water supply? Don't you know dat when you have de blinders raised an' bars do water comes down in a frostin', same as beer from a barrel, an' de hoodsaws in? Don't you know dat future generations is goin' to miss de new-growth protection afforded by dat, an' our grandchildren is liable to be at de mercy of a parasol trust? An' you want me to chop wood! Lady, I'm surprised at you!"—Washington Star.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. In one yard roses of variagated hues predominate, another has a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

The steamer Cherokee is billed for an excursion to Ormond tomorrow afternoon.

C. G. Wiggins, of Second avenue, who several weeks ago fell and sustained a fracture of the small bone of his right leg and a bad sprain of the ankle, was out on Beach street Friday for the first time since the accident. The sprain is still giving him trouble, but he is improving very satisfactorily.

‡Packing, shipping and repairing furniture a specialty. N. Erickson, Cottage avenue. m-w-s tf

I. S. Comstock and daughter, Miss Ruth, Mr. Fuller and daughter, Miss Annis, and Mr. Fuller's sister, Miss Fay Fuller, all of Clyde, Ohio, who have been in Daytona since Sunday, left Friday afternoon for St. Petersburg and other points. The party who are friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Clapp, are on a tour of the State.

††LETTUCE PLANTS—Big Boston, young, strong. W. H. Cameron, 2d avenue t s

Clifford Bullard of Boston, Mass., who arrived the first part of the week with his father, Henry B. Bullard, of West Sutton, Mass., departed Thursday morning on his return to Boston. Mr. H. B. Sutton, who is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Shanks on South Palmetto avenue, will remain here two or three weeks longer. Mr. Sutton is thoroughly enjoying this, his first trip to Florida. He has been in the grocery business at West Sutton for forty years.

‡FOR RENT—Large house, 11 rooms, situated at Silver Beach, near automobile club house; bath, hot and cold, hard and soft water; furnished. Garage and servant's quarters. Rental, $500 for season. Inquire of T. E. Fitzgerald, or any agent. tf

Coloring an Abyssinian Bride.

Western brides have an easier time than their Abyssinian sisters. On the occasion of her marriage an Abyssinian bride has to change her skin. From ebony she has to become the color of cafe au lait. To accomplish this the expectant bride is shut up in a room for three months. She is covered with woolen stuff, with the exception of her head. Then they burn certain green and fragrant branches. The fumes which they produce destroy the original skin, and in its place comes the new skin, soft and clear as a baby's. The elders of the family feed the young woman with nutritive forcemeat balls.

NEWS OF THE HOTELS

The Prince George.

Jacob Melort and wife of Elizabeth, N. J and J. H. Davis of Erie, Penn. were among the new arrivals at the Prince George on Friday.

The Ridgewood.

A. S. McKinney, Miss McKinney, Mrs. A. M Kirkpatrick, El Paso, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. G J. Gundlfinger child and maid of Philadelphia, arrived at the Ridgewood on Friday.

The Despland.

Mrs. Aaron Blackford, Miss Gart Blackford of Findlay, Ohio; A. W. Fritat, T. B Walker and C C. Hudson of Jacksonville; L. G. Lyman, city; R. W. Kennedy, Lexington, Ky. and E. R. Schoen and H. H. Hemphin of Jacksonville, arrived at the Despland yesterday.

Schmidt's Hotel.

The following new guests arrived at Schmidt's Hotel on Friday: Adolph Hoke and William Hoke, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Jeanette F. Agnew, Mrs. Charles Kichbaum and Mrs F. E. Case, all of Canton, Ohio; Cornellus Christiancy, Port Orange; H. R. Dunn, Atlanta; N. Dreybus, New York; J. R. Collins, New York, and H. E. Day, Jacksonville; Mr and Mrs. E. Eaton, and Mr. and Mrs. Schenck of Newark, N. J., guests at Schmidt's Hotel, are on the Tomoka trip today on the steamer 'Cherokee."

Adolph Hoke of Grand Rapids, Mich., who, together with his son, William, is stopping at Schmidt's Hotel, is an old friend and schoolmate of the late D. A. Blodgett. Mr. Hoke is 82 years of age, but still about as active as a youngster.

His Wonderful Method.

"You haven't been married very long, have you?" said a guide at the state capitol to a young man who was signing "Mr. and Mrs." in the register for visitors at the desk at the entrance.

"How did you know?" demanded the young man.

"Oh, we get used to such people here and can tell them every time," was the response. "You haven't written that name with "Mrs." very long, have you? I believe I can tell how long you have been married from the signature," the guide continued.

"Well, we haven't been married very long, but I don't see how you can tell from the signature. How long has it been?"

"Well, let me see." The guide picked up the book and scanned the name closely.

"You have been married five days today," he said with an air of certainty.

"That's right, it's five days, but I don't see how you can tell."

The young wife had been sitting on the marble bench during the colloquy, and not until the couple went out of the building did she tell "hubby" that the guide had accosted her in the same way and that she had told when they had been married.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Bavarian Distances.

In the Bavarian highlands signposts along the roads, instead of stating the number of miles or kilometers to the various villages, give the amount of time which the average pedestrian will supposedly take to traverse the distance. This is merely an official expression of the very general custom of the peasants in the region, who invariably tell inquirers on the roads not how far it is to a place, but how long it takes to get there. Not only that, but they make the system still more unsatisfactory to the stranger by a little additional eccentricity of their own.

For instance, one asks, "How far is it to Oberammergau?"

"A small half hour," will be the answer, or perhaps "A good half hour" or "A big half hour."

Which is puzzling until the stranger learns that a "small half hour" means twenty-five minutes, "a good half hour" thirty minutes, "a big half hour" thirty-five minutes, "a small three-quarters of an hour" forty minutes, and so on.

An Economic Protest.

"Did I understand you to ask me if I wanted work?" asked Plodding Pete.

"That's what you understood, if you understood anything," answered the woman with a cold, steely eye and a square jaw.

"You've got some wood that needs chopping, I suppose."

"I have."

"Lady, I'm surprised at you. Don't you know dat de trees gather moisture gradually an' by slowly lettin' it into de ground keep up a steady water supply? Don't you know dat when you leave de hillsides naked an' bare de water comes down in a freshet, same as beer from a barrel wit' de head stove in? Don't you know dat future generations is goin' to miss de umbrageous protection overhead an' dat our grandchildren is liable to be at de mercy of a parasol trust? An' you want me to chop wood! Lady, I'm surprised at you!"—Washington Star.

Brief Mention of Some Tiptop Inns With Prices and Service Right.

IT WILL PAY TO MAKE NOTE.

The Putnam Inn, DeLand, B. E. Brown, proprietor, is splendidly located, the service and the rates summed up rightly. DeLand is acknowledged to be one of the most delightful towns in Florida and with the good road from Daytona over there all autoists ought to make a stop at the "Putnam."

The Hotel Dixie, at Titusville, is a means for excitement and all find it a most agreeable resort. It stands unsurpassingly on the banks of the celebrated Indian River and offers every family for comfort and recreation. You have access to an extensive hunting preserves.

When you go south head for the Minneapolis inn of Miami's popular proprietors. You will find her broad verandahs and shade trees most grateful. J. P. Sawtell proprietor will take you in hand and make you feel at home.

If you go down on the "Constitution" the boat will land you at Hotel Palm Beach. Motorists rates and grand location. With its canopy of palms, tropical splendors of fruits and flowers you will find it a round of pleasures.

To all those who contemplate a visit to America's national city, St. Augustine, make a note of this. Hotel Magnolia is a select family hotel with every modern improvement. Send to Palmer & Mac-Donell, proprietors, for booklet. When you step off the cars at Augustine, look for Magnolia bus.

We are all going to the Alaska-Pacific-Yukon Exposition next summer and all will want to run down to Portland, Ore., and meet at the Hotel Perkins. It's central, luxurious and equipped with all up-to-date accessories. Only $1.00 and up. Right in style of life.

To all Daily News readers who pass through Chicago or write home this spring of when will be there on route to Seattle next summer don't fail to make a note of the location, the service, the price and other desirable features of The Wellington, Hotel, Cor. Wabash Ave. and Jackson Blvd. Splendid rooms for $1 a day, $2 to $3 at other places no better. Write, McClintock & Bayliss, props.

"DEADWOOD DICK," PUNK.

The "Deadwood Dick" aggregation which played to a fair-sized audience in their midwood tent last night should have refunded three-fourths of the admission fee. The show is reported to have been so poor that it was actually funny.

Now the troupe ever could have been deluged into the belief that they ever show timber is just comprehension by all who saw them attempt to deliver the goods last evening.

The bunch are simply fugitives from honest work and have fallen upon the show scheme to make a way.

When one reflects upon the service they might render draining muck lands, plowing cotton, or packing fruit it seems a shame they are not better employed.

ELKS NOW IN FIFTH PLACE; RAPIDLY CLIMBING UPWARD.

Outside of Daytona Vote Was Light—Daytona School Still Strong.

The Elks made another strong vote yesterday and passed Hot Jean Traynor Conrad going into fifth place, there behind Miss Maggie Morgan. A vote of over a hundred thousand is not so bad. However that race will have to be doubled if the sacrificed herd expect to win. With only seven more weeks left and the Daytona High School, the Elks and the Eastern Star going after all the time a vote of about 200,000 a week will have to be made to come very close to the money. It yesterday's count the High School gained on the second place.

Outside of Daytona everything seems serene. The Williams Opera House was a rest and outside of the Kingston hotel but two candidates across the river had any votes whatever.

COLLAPSE IN MARATHON.

By Press Wire.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Despite the collapse in the twenty-fifth mile of the marathon race with Tom Longboat of Hamilton, Ontario, and Alex Smith, the English runner, is given credit for being the greatest runner in the world up to 20 miles. For 20 miles Longboat and Smith ran a tight race. Smith collapsed in the 25th mile and Longboat was easily the winner in 2 hours 38 minutes and 46 1-5 seconds.

Saved From the Flames.

Fred Brubacher, of Second avenue west of the railroad, had a close call to being homeless, the latter part of last week when his dwelling house caught fire on the roof from sparks from the chimney. The fire was oddly enough brought to Mrs. Brubacher's notice by sparks from the main roof igniting the roof of a lean-to in which she was at work. She called Mr. Brubacher from the yard and, with the help of a couple of colored men who were fortunately near at hand, the fire was extinguished before serious damage had been done. A strong west wind was blowing at the
